ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author would like to remember first of all the late Dr. Paulette Hopple, who enthusiastically shared her passions for linguistics and for the Palaungic peoples, and who first introduced me to the Muak Sa-aak people, thus making this research possible.

I would like to express my deep gratitude to my advisor, Dr. Phinnarat Akharawatthanakun; and also to Dr. Sigrid Lew and Dr. Somsong Burusphat. In addition, I would like to thank Mr. William Hanna for his invaluable help.

I am very grateful to the Muak Sa-aak speakers who gave so much of their time and their language, and the friend who spent many hours with us translating.

Special thanks are due my family and friends, who have been very encouraging and gracious throughout this process.
