ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I wish to express all my thanks to the Lord Jesus Christ who enables me to study and encourages me all the time.

I gratefully acknowledge the assistance of my language associates who are kind and patient. I extend my special thanks and sincere respect to my grandmother for accommodation during my fieldtrips.

I give my deepest thanks to my thesis supervisor A. William J. Hanna for his discussion throughout the study, his valuable advice, offering ideas, lending me textbooks, his assistance in refining my draft, and in proofreading. I extend special thanks to my thesis committee members Dr. Pearl Wattanakul, A. Kirk R. Person and also my former thesis committee members Dr. Tom Tehan and A. Debbie Paulsen for their appreciated guidance and their assistance. Also, I thank every Linguistics instructor for giving me Linguistics knowledge.

I am most indebted to Mr. Henry Lao, Mr. Bruce Rowe as well as Pastor Praphan Nawrat for helping me to get the IPA computer fonts and other special characters working.

I wish to give loving thanks and respect to my parents for supporting all my years of education, their affection, their constant encouragement and their continual prayer. All of these persons are a principal part of my achievement.
