ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research could not have been written without the help of my advisor, Assistant Professor Dr. Wanida Penkingarn. She helped me throughout my research. I would also like to express my appreciation to Dr. Frances Woods and Dr. Lamar Robert, my thesis committee members. They encouraged me throughout the thesis process and never accepted less than my best efforts. I thank them all.

Appreciation is also extended to A. Martha Young, an instructor at the Payap University, for her assistance throughout the implementation of the syllabus and for her moral support. I would also like to thank the staff of Baan Dek Kindergarten School who assisted me in every step, from the needs analysis through the syllabus implementation. Special thanks to the experts who evaluated the lesson plan during their implementation, in particular, the principal and assistant principal of Baan Dek Kindergarten School, A. Shefket, an English teacher at Fatih High School and A. Supot, an English teacher at Chiangmai Kindergarten School. I would also like to express my thanks to my friends Wanwimol, Nattinee and Kanjana, who assisted me with the materials of the syllabus.

Moreover, I wish to express my deepest gratitude and utmost respect to my parents and my family members who supported me financially throughout this study. Lastly, I wish to thank my son, Ayush, who inspired me for this thesis and made me believe that young children can develop their critical thinking dramatically, given the right kind of environment.
