ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all I would like to thank my family including my father, my mother, my mother-in-law, and my sister-in-law for supporting me during this study.

I would also like to give special thanks to the linguistic staff especially my committee, which includes Dr. Brian Migliazza who enabled me to write this thesis, Ajarn Arthur Cooper who read this thesis and gave very helpful and thought-provoking comments, and Ajarn Doug Inglis who helped with the reading. In addition, I would like to thank Ajarn Karen Block who suggested the right topic.

I wish to express my appreciation for encouragement and moral support from Ajarn Tassaneeporn Prapatsorn and my friend Somlak Sermchaiwong. I am greatly indebted to Miss Phattharanit Virojkit for providing computer support.

Above all, I am very grateful to and for my husband Annonnath who has been very helpful during my thesis, my son Pasuwat, and my daughter Nanchanok for their willingness to part with me during this study.

Finally, my special thanks are due to Mr. Duangtip and Mrs. Dorkeaw Nakiri who assisted me with the study of the Lahu Shi language.
