

A Study of First Year College Students' Metacognitive
Awareness of Reading Strategies at Yuxi
Teachers College, Yunnan Province, China

The members of the thesis committee approve the master thesis of Xu Xian ming

Dr. Graeme Ritchie
Supervising Advisor

Aj. Lance Popoff

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Varunee Boon-Long

Assist. Prof. Dr. Wanida Penkingarn

Assist. Prof. Damrong Attaprechkul

Approval Date: 27/02/2004

Copyright © by Xu Xian ming 2004

All Rights Reserved

PAYAP UNIVERSITY

A Study of First Year College Students' Metacognitive
Awareness of Reading Strategies at Yuxi
Teachers College, Yunnan Province, China

By

Xu Xian ming

Presented to the Graduate School of Payap University in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Degree of

Master of Arts

In

The Teaching English as a Foreign Language Department

Payap University, Chiang Mai, Thailand

February, 2004

RESUME

Name: Xu Xian ming
Date of Birth: January 1960
Place of Birth: Yunnan, China

Education: No. One Junior and Senior
Middle School, Luchun County,
Honghe Prefecture, Yunnan
Province, China

Graduated 1976

Yunnan Normal University
of Kunming, Yunnan Province
China
Junior College Diploma

Graduated 1986

Yunnan Normal University
of Kunming, Yunnan Province
China
Bachelor of Arts (TEFL)

Graduated 1997

E-Mail: xxming110@yahoo.com.cn

Address: College English Department of Yuxi
Teachers College, Yunnan Province,
China 653100

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

On the occasion of the completion of my MA courses and thesis, I want to acknowledge all the people who have been helping me directly or indirectly in various ways for many years. Without their encouragement and the resources they provided, it would be impossible for me to successfully complete my study at the Graduate School of Payap University.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to the TEFL Department and the Linguistics Department for their excellent courses and to all the staff members who have guided my research in the area of Metacognitive Awareness. I am very grateful to Dr. Gene Adam for his academic guidance and comments on my thesis proposal, and I am also grateful to Aj. Lance Popoff for the discussions and suggestions on my thesis writing and revision. My thanks are also extended to Dr. Graeme Ritchie, Dr. Varunee Boon-Long, Dr. Wanida Penkingarn, Dr. Jonathan Leather, Dr. John Unger and Dr. Lamar Robert for conducting the academic courses that laid the foundation for the outline of my thesis. I would like to especially thank Dr. Graeme for the Seminar Course, Dr. Varunee Boon-Long for Classroom Observation, Dr. Lamar Robert for Research Methodology, and Aj. Adam for the English Major Reading Classes, which provided a pilot study to form and revise the questionnaire and interview questions used in my thesis. I appreciate very much all the Payap University Library staff members and also all the staff members of the Graduate School who assisted me in my research.

My thanks and respect go to the authors of various articles in the metacognitive research area, they have provided me with rich materials in this field. I have tried to carefully state these sources. Any error in the quotes is my responsibility.

I would like to give my thanks to my classmates for their sincere help in my daily life in a foreign country. They helped me to adjust and to quickly feel comfortable in my new surroundings.

I would like to give my appreciation to my work unit, Yuxi Teachers College which gave me the opportunity to study and guaranteed my finances. My appreciation extends to my colleagues who supported my leave and were willing to take larger loads during my study. This study could not succeed without great cooperation and help from them.

I acknowledge my husband and lovely son for their mental and financial support during my study in Thailand.

I also appreciate Rod and LizAnn Larson-Swenson for proof reading. Without their help refining my thesis, it would be impossible for me as a non-native speaker to write fluently in English.

Finally, I am indebted to all the people who shared their ideas, suggestions, and encouragement. It is their encouragement that pushed me forward and enabled me to finish my courses and thesis on schedule.

February, 2004

Chiangmai, Thailand