A rapid appraisal survey of Kuy dialects spoken in Cambodia. Chiang Mai, Thailand: Payap University, ms.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The author wishes to express special appreciation to the following colleagues who assisted in significant ways with data collection on one or more of the data collection trips in Cambodia, including planning, elicitation, translation, trip logistics and more: Dr. Ken Gregerson, Feikje Van der Haak, Noel Mann, Ho Hout, Pailin Phomngam and Tom Newhouse. Planning assistance was also given by the staff of the International Co-operation for Cambodia (ICC) and World Vision, as well as those at the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport of Cambodia. In Thailand, Camleng Ceucan, Pailin Phomngam and Pia Phomngam were instrumental in the development of the Recorded Text Test (RTT).

Thanks go to all the Kuy in Cambodia and in Thailand who patiently answered many questions about their language, helped create RTTs, responded to questionnaires and RTTs, and were welcoming and friendly. All of the staff in the Linguistics Department at Payap University were wonderfully helpful and supportive, especially the thesis committee members: Dr. Thomas Tehan, Aj. Noel Mann, and Aj. Margorie Doty. Special thanks go to Aj. Noel for inspiration through his enthusiasm towards language survey, for his patient encouragement, and for constantly believing in me. Valuable assistance was also given in the early stages by Dr. Brian Migliazza.

Feikje Van der Haak generously shared her knowledge of and experience with the Kuy of Thailand. Juliana Kelsall shared her knowledge of language survey and report writing. Other colleagues and friends, too numerous to name, were constantly encouraging and always available for advice. My linguistics classmates helped make studying at Payap very enjoyable. My 'sisters' were wonderful beyond words. My family encouraged from afar and believed in me. To all of you I give my sincerest thanks. I couldn't have done it without you!
